Mediakit

Known for fresh piano arrangements, smooth vocal harmony and unmistakable chemistry, ShiLi & Adi has emerged as one of the top vocal duo in the industry. They are most well-known for being the only local act who was invited to join the stellar international line-up of artists at the Formula 1 Singapore Grand Prix for four consecutive years from 2012 to 2015, on top of other major sporting events such as WTA Finals and Rugby 7. Having performed for dignitaries from Singapore Presidents SR Nathan and Tony Tan, Prime Ministers Goh Chok Tong and Lee Hsien Loong, to the Sultan of Malaysia, ShiLi & Adi has headlined various festivals such as Singapore Arts Festival, Mosaic Music Festival, Young NTUC Celebration of National Day Parade, as well as Marina Bay Singapore New Year's Eve Countdown.

In 2017, ShiLi & Adi was handpicked by Indonesian jazz legend Candra Darusman to join a list of Indonesian and Malaysian A-listers as part of his tribute album Detik Waktu, which went on to win Album of the Year award at the Indonesian equivalent of the Grammys, the AMI Awards 2018. The single Rintangan was produced and arranged by Indonesian maestro Erwin Gutawa. In 2018, the duo had the honour to open for Taiwanese superstar Wakin Chau to a sold-out crowd at the Singapore National Stadium, presented by UnUsual Entertainment.

2019 sees a new beginning for ShiLi & Adi as the duo charts another milestone – the release of self-penned original compositions starting with their first single “When I’m With You” #WIWY on Spotify/Apple Music:

My partner and I engaged ShiLi & Adi from Merry Bees for our wedding dinner on 19 September 2020. Given the restriction on live events, we had them stream their performance virtually from their own studio. Our guests had nothing but praise for their performance! Since they were live but streaming virtually, guests who could not attend the reception (50 pax limit) could also follow their performance live, and dedicate songs to us via the livestream. This allowed more folks to be a part of our celebration, and we were so grateful! The stream was very smooth, and the sound quality was top notch as well, so you can be assured that there's no drop in quality even though it's virtual. Coordination with the band during the reception was also smooth as they were very professional by sending some folks onsite to manage the entire situation. We are so grateful that things went as smoothly as they did, and I will highly recommend their services to any couples who are looking to engage singers for their wedding, even if it's virtual. They were awesome!

Both ShiLi and Adi were very enthusiastic throughout the event and engaged our audience very well! Our audience personally commented on the fantastic job that they did. They were extremely helpful leading up to our wedding, patiently acceding to our requests. They were also very creative when designing our montage. They made our wedding extremely enjoyable under the difficult circumstances during this period. Will definitely recommend them!

We wish to thank the team from Merrybees, Shili, Adi, John and the coordinators (Gabrielle and Qian Hui) for making our wedding night the best night of our lives. We were extremely lucky as we managed to have Shili and Adi's sing for our special night. Both of their voices could win American & Singapore Idol hands-down.

Shili not only has a sweet voice but was experienced and made many great suggestions which significantly contributed to the smooth flow of the wedding programme. John pleasantly surprised us with his height (very tall!) and amazing emceeing skills. All of them captivated the audience and everyone were singing praises of them.

Not forgetting the 2 ladies, Gabrielle and Qian Hui who were on and off site. They were patient with our requests and prompt with their replies! We loved our childhood montage, pre-wedding montages, the virtual live band with dedication and OUR FAVOURITE the parents dedication. The team even surprised us with having "live parents dedication" with messages and photo slides while Shili & Adi sung.

It was an enjoyable experience and we 100% recommend that everyone have them at all events! - Guan Kiat & Tracey

Multilingual duo release their first EP

Home-grown duo Shili & Adi have a strong chemistry as they have been singing together since their junior college days

Eddine Abdul Hadi
Music Correspondent

A decade after they made their name singing covers, home-grown duo Shili & Adi are finally stepping up with their debut EP of original tunes.

They have their sights set on the region, hence the mix of English, Malay and Mandarin songs in Berdia (which roughly means "both" and "togetherness" in Malay).

Shili, whose real name is Shili Yap, says: "This EP represents the beginning of a new journey for us."

No stranger to major events, the pair, both 32, have sung at gigs that include the concert by Manokwap star Wain Chuan at the National Stadium last year, as well as in four editions of the Formula 1 Singapore Grand Prix, from 2012 to 2015.

Having sung together since their student days in the Victoria Junior College choir and later, the National University of Singapore Jazz Band, their chemistry is so strong that they refuse to take on solo gigs.

Yap says: "Sometimes we get a request, 'Can I just get Shili or Adi?' But we tell them, it's either the two of us or none at all."

Adi, whose full name is Adi Rahmadian, adds: "It's the chemistry and harmony we have when we sing together. We can even do impromptu things on stage because we know each other so well."

While both have spent half their lives in Singapore, Yap was originally from Malaysia and Adi was from Indonesia, hence their ability to sing in multiple languages.

Both came to Singapore to study as Asesin (Association of South-east Asian Nations) scholars and are now permanent residents here.

They have been making inroads into the Indonesian music market. In 2017, Indonesian music veteran Candra Damayanti roped them in to sing on his album, Detik Waktu (Seconds in Time). Last year, it won Album of the Year at the ADI Awards, Indonesia's equivalent of the Grammys.

The lyrics they write are highly personal and even touch on the fact that they used to date each other.

Yap, who is married to Singaporean singer-guitarist John Eyo, says: "Through the songs, the two of us are exposing our vulnerabilities. We have both been through a lot in our past relationships."

They are also making music full time now, with Adi recently leaving his day job at an international bank. Yap left her day job in the motion picture industry in 2013 and started a management company, Merry Bees, whose roster of artists includes the two of them, her husband and bands such as acoustic trio The Passerby.

Adi, who is single, says: "I'll probably make twice as much if I kept my day job, but to me, singing and making music is more fulfilling."

Local folk-pop duo ShiLi & Adi are on the rise. Their debut single 'When I'm With You' has just been picked up by Warner Indonesia for release and is now available to stream on Spotify, Deezer, Apple Music and more.

The track is off their multilingual debut EP Berdua, which also features songs in Mandarin and Malay. It's an impressive effort made up entirely of self-composed and radio-friendly material.

ShiLi & Adi are no strangers to the 'live' music scene. Not only are they the only local act to play four consecutive F1 concerts, they have also performed before dignitaries such as former president Tony Tan and Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong. They also opened for evergreen Taiwanese crooner Wakin Chau at his sold-out show in Singapore last year.

ShiLi & Adi – 'When I'm With You'

Bandwagon Review of WIWY, 2019

ShiLi & Adi have been in the music scene for five years but in that time, they've proven themselves to be one of the most in-demand music acts in the region. From stints such as performing for former presidents S.R Nathan and Tony Tan to gigs on Indonesian TV, the duo has affirmed that there's certainly no denying its musicality.

'When I'm With You' is the duo's first English track and it's an irresistibly disco-influenced dance number. It's heart-pumping from start to end and there's a surprise when the bridge comes in: An '80s dance music tune; no vocals; just pure grooves. ShiLi & Adi take turns singing the lyrics, climaxing at the chorus where their harmonies soar through. It's definitely a song you'll want to listen to if you ever want an instant mood-lifter.

ONCE UPON A MEMORY

Hitting the Right Notes

Ms Yap Shi Li and Mr Widya Adi Rachmadian (Engineering '09) were faculty friends, hall pals, and CCA chums before becoming professional partners as music duo ShiLi & Adi.

BY FAIROZA MANSOR

MUSIC MIGHT NOT BE AN IDEAL CAREER PATH when one majored in Industrial & Systems Engineering, but Ms Yap Shi Li and Mr Widya Adi Rachmadian cannot imagine themselves pursuing any other profession. Friends throughout their university life, the 31-year-olds studied the same course, stayed in the same hall (Kent Ridge Hall) and were in the same CCA (NUS Jazz Band). In their final year, Ms Yap had an opportunity to take on a long-term residency at a local pub. She asked Mr Widya Adi if he was keen to join her, and just like that, ShiLi & Adi was born.

"Everything that happened while we were NUS students and the choices we made then, have laid the foundations for what we do today," says Ms Yap. The band's schedule is packed with pub performances, corporate events and wedding banquets, and underscores the general perception that musicians struggle financially. "It's important to dispel this notion that those who pursue a career in music have a problem surviving in this world. This, in fact, pays more than my day job!" exclaims Mr Widya Adi, who works in the banking industry. "And the best part is – we're thoroughly enjoying every moment of it!"

HALL OF FAME
It's a bold claim but as far as Ms Yap and Mr Widya Adi are concerned, Kent Ridge (KR) Hall is the most "happening" hall on campus. "We had so much fun as residents, and formed such tight bonds with our hallmates, many of whom we are still friends with," says Ms Yap, who while a resident, was part of a band known as the KR Rockers as its lead singer. "Every year, we'd play at the TUGO (Thank God It's Over) concert to celebrate the end of the Interhall Games." Mr Widya Adi was also in his own musical group, the KR Acappella, as its main music arranger.

HEAVEN, EARTH AND HELL
"The three tiers of the Engineering faculty's canteen have long been referred to 'heaven', 'earth' and 'hell' respectively," says Mr Widya Adi. "It's a way of telling friends where we were seated so they could find us easily!" The Indonesian panggang (grilled) food stall is the canteen's star attraction even with students from other faculties. They both vouch that "the dishes were amazing!"

JAZZING IT UP
Being members of the NUS Jazz Band laid prepared ShiLi & Adi well for their performing career. "We were privileged to be mentored by the late Cultural Medallion winner Mr Iskandar Mirza Ismail and renowned vocal coach John Lee," quips Ms Yap. "They not only inspired me but also taught me everything I need to know about connecting with the audience and maintaining a strong stage presence," Mr Widya Adi adds. Formed in 1994, the NUS Jazz Band experiments with a spectrum of genres besides jazz, including blues, swing, bebop and soul, and has held a series of sold-out performances as part of the NUS Arts Festival.

STARS IN THE MAKING
"We had a lot of practice performing at the NUS Centre for the Arts' University Cultural Centre (UCC) both as part of our hall bands and the NUS Jazz Band," says Ms Yap, who credits her stage confidence to the many performances at the 450-seater theatre. It was therefore quite an experience for the duo to return to the venue for their first solo show on 13 January this year. Mr Widya Adi says, "It was mind-blowing, and brought back a lot of great memories. It felt like we had come

Wedding led to gig at Istana

Vocalist Shi Li Yap and vocalist and keyboardist Adi Rakhmadian, both 26, stumbled on their career as wedding entertainers by accident.

The duo - stage name Shili & Adi, and who do covers and medleys of English top 40 hits and pop classics - started performing in pubs about three years ago and were surprised to receive wedding inquiries a few months after from people who saw them.

Yap said: "We didn't really mean to be a wedding band because we play mostly in pubs. Then we played more shows at the Esplanade and stuff - maybe when you see a guy and girl on the piano, people find it romantic... that is when you start to receive inquiries about playing at weddings."

The pair, who have played regular gigs at live venues such as Acid Bar, Timbre Old School and CM-PB, usually perform a similar repertoire for weddings of songs in English, Chinese, Malay, Hindi and Latin covering pop, rock, jazz, R&B and soul.

They are so popular that they perform at about a dozen weddings each month and already have some bookings for weddings in 2014.

It could be because they seem like a couple themselves, a question often put to them by their clients.

When asked if they are indeed a pair, Adi simply chuckles: "I tell them that we are a couple in music."

The pair charge $1,500 and more for a standard package of two 45-minute sets, and wedding gigs now form a sizeable portion of their income as musicians.

Yap says that depending on the month, their income from wedding gigs can make up half or more of their monthly take-home pay.

Though the pair stressed that they do not market themselves as a wedding band - they prefer to be seen as a pop duo, and they also perform at corporate events and pubs - Adi notes that weddings can open doors for bigger opportunities.

He says: "We got to perform at the Istana for the President because the organiser was a guest at one of the weddings we played at and liked our music. So we can't complain."

Singing for Bali wedding

SHILI YAP, 27, who is part of pop-jazz singing duo Shili & Adi

A part-work, part-leisure trip to Bali in June turned out to be the singer's best holiday this year.

She says the work segment of the trip - performing at a private wedding - was so memorable that she got teary-eyed even though she knew neither the bride nor groom.

Yap, her singing partner Adi Rakhmadian, 27, and two session musicians were flown by a Singaporean couple to Semara Luxury Villas, where they sang and played music for the couple and their 50 guests.

The couple paid for the band's flights and accom-

Singer Shili Yap performed with partner Adi Rakhmadian at a beach wedding.

In 2012, Shili & Adi had their first mention in the Singapore media on The Straits Times, subsequently featured again in 2013 on being engaged for overseas wedding performances. In 2014, Shili & Adi graced the stage of Anugerah Planet Muzik as backing vocalists to renown artistes in the Malay industry for Mediacorp's Suria's Live Telecast.

modation, in addition to their performance fees.

Recalling the event, Yap gushed: "The resort is beautiful because it's on a cliff with the sea as its backdrop."

"The wedding setting was intimate, and the groom also sang for his wife. It was really touching."

She extended her trip to stay another four days with her boyfriend John Iye, 28, and dived at Manta Point, south-west of island Nusa Penida.

"This was my first time seeing manta rays live. I counted 20 of them - it was such an awesome sight."

"It's a dream come true, as I've been wanting to see manta rays ever since I picked up diving last July," she says.

Apart from diving, she also lounged at Kuta Beach, enjoying the breeze, and took a short tour to Ubud to visit cafes and art exhibition centres.

The trip was unforgettable, right down to her last hour in Bali.

"I realised I lost my mobile phone 35 minutes before my flight time. I had dropped it while getting out of the car at the airport."

"After five attempts to call my number, someone actually answered. Thank God the person was an airport staff, who was able to enter the airport transit area."

"Without him, I wouldn't have had the chance to share my photos of those precious moments, which I captured only on my mobile phone. I feel like God was with us the whole trip," she says.

Adi Rakhmadian Berpartner dengan Penyanyi Malaysia dan Populer di Singapura

Dua Kali ke Istana karena Mahir Lantunkan Lagu Empat Bahasa

Berawal dari mendapat beasiswa sekolah pada 2001, Adi Rakhmadian telah tinggal sudah sebelas tahun menetap di Singapura. Pada tahun terakhir kuliah, dia merintis karir musik. Adi membentuk duo bersama ShiLi Yap, sang partner asal Malaysia. Nama ShiLi & Adi pun populer di Negeri Singa.

NORA SAMPURNA

MINGGU lalu (23/9) menjadi hari yang tidak terupakan lupa: Adi Rakhmadian. Bersama ShiLi Yap, Adi diminta secara khusus oleh Presiden Singapura Tony Tan untuk tampil di VIP Room F1 Singapura.

ShiLi & Adi memang menjadi salah satu performer dalam gelaran F1 Singapura. ShiLi bernyanyi, sebelumnya Adi menempati sebagai keyboardist dalam duo ShiLi & Adi. Mereka sudah tampil pada Jumat (21/9) di Zone 1 Marina

Singapore Sulu (22/9) di Zone 1 Paddock Club Lifestyle Stage. Live-up artis internasional yang juga tampil di F1 Singapura, antara lain, Katy

Perry, Maroon 5, dan Jay Chou.

Pada hari ketiga atau hari pertobatan, Minggu (23/9), ShiLi & Adi dijadwalkan main lagi di Zone 1 Paddock Club Lifestyle Stage. Mereka diminta oleh presiden untuk perform di VIP Room Paddock Club pukul 19.30-20.00 tepat sebelum race dimulai pukul delapan malam. Selain presiden, di sana ada Perdana Menteri (PM) Lee Hsien Loong serta jajaran anggota kabinet.

Rupanya, Tony Tan masih mengingat ShiLi & Adi. Keduanya memang pernah diundang ke Istana Singapura dalam acara Turnamen Golf Persahabatan Singapura-Malaysia pada Jumat lalu. "Walaupun kami diundang oleh organizer TI bahwa Tony meminta kami secara khusus. Executive sekali rasanya. Jadi, pada hari pertobatan tersebut, kami tidak tampil di panggung publik, melainkan di depan pejabat-pejabat penting Singapura. Saya tersanjung karena Tony masih ingat kami," tutur Adi.

ShiLi & Adi Sukses Tampil di F1 Singapura

■ DUA KALI...

Sambungan dari hal 25

Meski bukan kali pertama tampil di depan pejabat negara, sudah tentu permintaan khusus sang Presiden itu membuat Adi dan partnernya bangga. Di sela-sela tampil, mereka tidak melewatkan kesempatan untuk berfoto dengan tiap orang di sana. "Dengan PM Lee Hsien Loong (putra mantan PM pertama Singapura Lee Kuan Yew, Red), kami baru pertama bertemu di acara F1 itu. Begitu juga halnya dengan menteri-menteri lainnya," sebut Adi yang lahir di Surabaya, 31 Agustus 1985, tersebut.

Yang menarik, Presiden Tony rupanya menyadari bahwa Adi berasal dari Indonesia. "Beliau menebak dari aksen bicara dan melihat dari nama saya," ucap Adi. Dalam obrolan itu, sang presiden menyatakan rasa hangatnya karena masih ada anak-anak muda yang melestarikan budaya Asia. Maklum, saat ini kebanyakan anak muda berminat ke musik barat.

Berbicara tentang undangan ke Istana Singapura, ShiLi & Adi tidak hanya sekali mendapatkan kesempatan istimewa tersebut. Pada 2010, saat masa pemerintahan Presiden S.R. Nathan, ShiLi & Adi diminta tampil di tempat yang sama. Acaranya adalah Turnamen Golf Persahabatan Singapura-Malaysia untuk menyambut Sultan Perak dari Malaysia.

Bagaimana prosesnya sampai bisa diundang ke istana? Rupanya, kemampuan bernyanyi dalam bahasa Melayu, Mandarin, Tamil, dan Inggris yang merupakan empat bahasa nasional di Singapura, menjadi nilai plus duo ShiLi & Adi. Saat berpartisipasi di Singapore Arts Festival 2012, mereka membawakan lagu Bengawan Solo dan Rasa Sayange. "Ada kebanggaan tersendiri menyanyikan lagu daerah Indonesia di perayaan publik Singapura," ucap Adi.

Selain itu, pada Singapore National Day yang berlangsung pada 9 Agustus lalu, ShiLi & Adi tampil di hadapan seputuh ribu penonton di Marina Bay. "Itu merupakan performance kami di depan ukuran crowd yang terbesar. Suasananya begitu megah. Kami berkali-kali meyakinkan diri, tidak menyangka akhirnya sampai di titik ini!" ucap adi yang di antara dua bersaudara putra pasangan Agoes Soerarno dan Dian A. Soerarno tersebut saat ditemui Jawa Pos di Surabaya beberapa waktu lalu.

Flashback sebelas tahun silam, Adi merupakan penerima beasiswa ASEAN Scholarship for Secondary School yang diberikan oleh Ministry of Education Singapore untuk anak-anak dari negara-negara di Asia Tenggara. Alumnus SMPN 1 Surabaya itu sempat melanjutkan ke SMAN 5 Surabaya selama satu caturwulan sebelum akhirnya masuk ke Victoria School, Singapura, pada 2001.

Dia bertemu ShiLi di Victoria Junior College (VJC), salah satu SMA top di Singapura. Sama-sama punya bakat menyanyi dan bermusik, keduanya menjadi anggota choir sekolah. ShiLi terpilih sebagai student conductor di choir itu, sedangkan Adi tenor sectional leader. Pada 2004, bersama komite choir lainnya, mereka berhasil membawa VJC Choir meraih tiga medali emas di Choir Olympics di Jerman.

Pada 2005, Adi dan ShiLi sama-sama masuk National University of Singapore (NUS) jurusan industrial engineering, dan tetap berminat di bidang musik. Keduanya berganti genre yang berbeda, bukan choir lagi. Keduanya bergabung dalam NUS Jazzband. Mereka pun sering mendapat kesempatan untuk menyanyi solo di konser dengan drum jazz orkestra secara utuh.

Setahun sebelum lulus atau pada 2009, Adi dan ShiLi mencoba tampil sebagai duo. Mereka mengikuti audisi untuk mengisi musik tiap Sabtu malam di Reddot Brewhouse di kawasan Dempsey. Tempat tersebut dikenal sebagai lokasi nongkrong elite di kalangan anak muda. "Dari situ kami mulai tampil sebagai duo," sebut Adi. Pengalaman berharga yang mereka dapat adalah belajar berkomunikasi dengan penonton. "Yakni, kiat membuat performance kami selalu interaktif dengan joke-joke segar serta menjaga komunikasi yang baik antara kami berdua dan penonton," lanjutnya.

Tak butuh waktu lama, nama ShiLi & Adi semakin dikenal di Singapura. Saat ini keduanya tampil empat kali dalam seminggu. Lokasinya, Timbre di Gillman, Beer Market di Clarke Quay, Five Izakaya di Changi, dan Reddot Brewhouse di Dempsey. Itu belum termasuk beberapa kali tawaran mengadakan konser tunggal di Esplanade, pusat performing art bergengsi di Singapura.

Adi menjelaskan, konsep ShiLi & Adi memang duo. "Konsep ShiLi & Adi adalah harmoni, passion, dan chemistry yang kuat antara dua lead vocal. Sederhana, namun menyentuh hati," ujar Adi yang sampai saat ini masih belum punya manajer. Semua diurus berdua dengan ShiLi. Mereka juga bisa tampil diiringi backing band dengan tetap menonjolkan duo sebagai frontliner-nya.

Salah satu pujian yang cukup besar dalam karir mereka adalah kipah mereka dimuat The Straits Times, koran terbesar di Singapura dan memiliki jangkauan regional se-Asia Tenggara. Di surat kabar itu, ShiLi & Adi mendapat satu tempat mini berupa kolom yang terpisah dari artikel utama. "Salah satu pencapaian yang membanggakan buat kami dan cukup signifikan meningkatkan publisitas," tutur Adi yang juga berprofesi sebagai analis di perusahaan semikonduktor Singapura tersebut.

Setelah populer di Singapura, adakah keinginan untuk merilis album atau berkari di Indonesia? Adi menjawab, dalam lima tahun ke depan dirinya masih ingin berkari di Singapura. "Keinginan untuk merilis album tentu ada. Tetapi, kami menunggu timing yang tepat," ujarnya. Ke depan, mereka berencana merambah pasar Indonesia dan Malaysia. "Jika ada kesempatan, tidak tertutup kemungkinan bagi kami tampil di festival-festival musik di Indonesia atau Malaysia," tegasnya. (*/cB/nda)
